BLOODY CLASH IN LIEGE TODAY

Unrest is spreading to every portion of Kingdom of Belgium.

ANTWERP EXCITED

Catholics Organizing a Counter Demonstration Against Horde of Reds.

RIOTS IN BRUSSELS

Brussels, April 11.—The riotous disturbances continue today though in a somewhat modified form. The crowds swarmed the streets until an early hour this morning when fatigue induced many to retire and the streets took on a more normal appearance.

Clash at Liege Today

Brussels, April 11.—The socialists and police clashed at Liege today and many were injured. The Catholics in Antwerp are organizing a counter demonstration against the socialists. The unrest is spreading to every portion of Belgium, causing the king and ministers serious anxiety.

CONFLICTS LAST NIGHT

Thirty Persons Wounded Including Women and Children in Brussels

Brussels, April 11.—Serious conflicts between the rioters and the police, in which over thirty persons were wounded, including women and children, occurred here Thursday night in the vicinity of the Maison du Peuple.

Toward midnight this district of Brussels had the appearance of a city in revolt. The rioters had torn up the street car rails and erected a sort of barricade to fortify their position at the Maison du Peuple.

By strenuous efforts the police managed to clear the Rue Stevens, but the Maison du Peuple was left in possession of the rioters.

Repeated charges of police and mounted gendarmes with drawn sabers resulted in the dispersal of the rioting mob early Thursday morning. During the rioting one policeman was shot through the body and face. His comrades, having exhausted their ammunition, fled, and the wounded man was overwhelmed, kicked and stoned.

Another policeman sought refuge in the attic of a cafe, whereupon the socialists sacked the establishment and exploded a bomb, which set fire to the building and completed its ruin. The flames forced the rioters to retire.

Another mob proceeded to the Northern railroad station, where it collided with the police. Revolver shots were exchanged, and the rioters seized a policeman, beat him until he was unconscious and left him bleeding on the ground.

After many rioters had been wounded the mob dispersed.

The Civic guards of Schuerbeek and Saint-Josse-Ten-Noode, near here, have been ordered on duty, and the burgomasters of those two communes have prohibited assemblies in the streets of more than five people.

BARNEY WILL MOVE TO MILWAUKEE

Will Take a Shy at Another Nomination for Congress in District He Was Cut Off.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 11.—Politicians of the new fifth district are much stirred up over a report that Congressman Barney, whom as legislated into a democratic district at the last apportionment, will take up his residence in Milwaukee in a section of the city which will bring him within the confines of the new fifth district. It is generally admitted that this means the congressman will have a shy at another re-nomination, something not at all to the liking of the numerous ambitious republicans living in the district who had prepared for an attack on the nomination themselves.

Register of Deeds Drowns

Madison, Wis., April 11.—(Special) Gov. La Follette was notified today of the death by drowning of James Walker, register of deeds of St. Croix county, yesterday. No details were given.

PAYNE'S ASSISTANT HAS BEEN NAMED

R. J. Wynne, a Washington Correspondent, is Chosen First Assistant Postmaster General.

Washington, D. C., April 11.—Robert J. Wynne, the Washington correspondent of a New York paper, has been offered and has accepted the office of First Assistant Postmaster General. The nomination probably will be submitted to the senate immediately after the president's return from Charleston. The change will take place on May 1 or earlier, as W. M. Johnson, of New Jersey, whom he succeeds, is anxious to retire as soon as possible.

IN LEAGUE WITH THE RAILROADS

State Fair Managers Will Endeavor to Make Entrance Part of the Railway Ticket.

Madison, Wis., April 11.—Having been unable to get the managers of the Milwaukee fair to hold their show on dates that would not conflict with those of the state fair, the state board of agriculture has hit upon a plan that may save the fair from being severely injured by the counter attraction. This plan is to get all railroads and transportation companies giving reduced rates for the fair to sell tickets with fair admission coupons attached. This would be a big boon to the fair and assure it of the attendance of a large majority of people who might take advantage of the low railroad rates to visit the city.

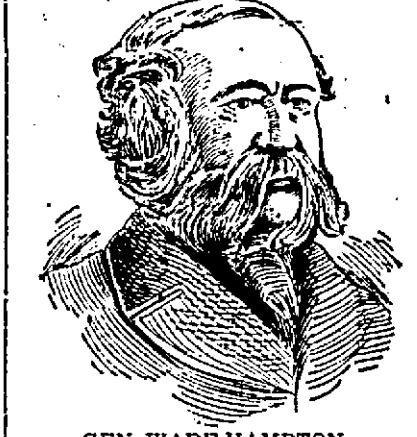

CORONER'S JURY ON SUICIDE OF HELLE

No Reason Can Be Found Why the Milton Farmer Took His Life by Hanging.

Milton, April 11.—Justice Stillman empanelled a coroner's jury composed of E. F. Wiegert, J. B. Tracy, G. E. Hansen, H. W. Maxson, B. F. Ballard and W. H. Weaver, to sit on the remains of Frederick Helle, who committed suicide Wednesday forenoon. His wife was the only witness sworn. She testified that her husband had been despondent and complained of pains in his head, that he went to the factory with his milk that morning as usual, but not returning to the house for some time, she became alarmed, went to the barn, but could not find him and finally discovered him in the rear of the barn hanging from a scantling. Dr. F. C. Binnewelds made an examination of the body and found that the neck was not broken and that death resulted from strangulation. The scantling to which the rope was attached was so near the ground that the suicide was obliged to draw up his feet to keep them off the ground. Mr. Helle was in fair financial circumstances, was a good natured neighbor and in the village was always friendly with his acquaintances and about the last man one would suppose to end his life in such a way. He leaves a wife and two sons, and daughters by his first wife.

He said he killed her with a hatchet during a fierce quarrel, after she wanted him to run away with her. He admitted that he had previously intended to kill her.

IOWA BOYS WIN FROM WISCONSIN

Fourth Annual Debate on the Merits of the Branch Banking Plan at Iowa City.

Iowa City, Ia., April 11.—The University of Iowa won the fourth annual debate with the University of Wisconsin, held here last night, on the question of "The desirability of amending the national banking laws so as to permit national banks to establish branches."

The Iowa speakers who affirmed the branch bank system were C. T. Kemmer of Eldridge, H. E. Spangler of Adair and E. K. Brown of Solon. They argued that their system meant great economy, co-operation and efficiency.

The Wisconsin speakers who denied the branch bank system were L. George Lohr, Henry Graess and A. D. S. Gillett.

PEACE IN AFRICA IS IN THE AIR

Current Rumor in London That Boers Accept British Terms.

LEADERS TO YIELD

News of the Settlement is from a Cablegram to a Financial Paper.

THE GENERALS MEET

London, April 11.—The cabinet was hurriedly summoned to meet tomorrow. The action has increased the talk of an early peace in South Africa. The stock exchange is full of peace rumors this afternoon.

Conference Has Begun

Pretoria, April 11.—Ex-President Steyn of the Orange Free State and Generals Dewet and Delafrey, arrived at Klerksdorp Wednesday. Under a flag of truce they sent a messenger into the town requesting the British Commandant to permit them to enter. A British officer with a detail rode out to escort them in. The Boers rode in Cape carts. On Thursday the conference between the Orange Free State representatives and the Transvaal representatives began in a London, April 11.—Paul Kruger has not yet received any peace communications. He continues pessimistic.

Certainly No Armistice

London, April 11.—The secretary of state for war in the house of commons today declared that the government had not received any communication from the Boer leaders. He said there would certainly not be an armistice.

London, April 11.—The Financier and Bullionist publishes a dispatch from Pretoria this morning declaring that Boer leaders have accepted the British terms. Peace, it is said, has been arranged, and the terms have been cabled to the Boer agents in Europe.

Many Rumors Heard

Other unconfirmed statements of a similar character were in circulation in London today.

It is said that Frederick Rutherford Harris, former secretary of the British Chartered South Africa company, has received a telegram to the same effect, but nothing of any official or really reliable nature concerning the matter is known.

Negotiations in Africa

These negotiations are the result of steps taken by the Transvaal delegation, headed by Schalkburger which was given free conduct through the British lines in order to meet Steyn, Botha, Delafrey, and other leaders in the field. For some days it was difficult for the peace delegates to get in touch with Steyn, but an arrangement was finally made for a meeting at Klerksdorp. The Boer leaders were fully possessed of the British terms.

London, April 11.—The war secretary, Mr. Brodrick, announced in the house of commons that Schalkburger, Reitz, Lucas, Meyer and Jacobs had been joined at Klerksdorp by General Botha, and added that Steyn, Dewet, Delafrey and three other members of the late Orange government arrived at the same place yesterday. PEARL FISHING ON THE MISSISSIPPI

Several Good Finds Have Already Been Made—It is Largely a Game of Chance.

Hundreds of pearl hunters have been drawn to Prairie du Chien, by the reported finds of pearls of great value.

The pearl hunters have already opened their season. They got out their skiffs as soon as the ice went out of the river. Already a number of fair-sized pearls have been found, and while the majority of professional pearl hunters will not arrive on the ground until the last of this month the people in the vicinity of the pearl beds are even now spending the greater part of their time on the river, and in nearly every instance their labors have been rewarded by fairly valuable finds.

Pearl fishing is a lottery, however, and the novice may be even more successful than the old fisher who has spent several years on the river. For several years the fishers have been steadily coming up the river from Muscatine, Ia., to Prairie du Chien, which is now the center of the industry. By June 1 there will be fully 500 people engaged in the business near this city, and if a large number of finds are made, this number will be doubled. Last year there were quite a number of pearls found which were valued by New York buyers at from $800 to $2,000. In addition to this there were thousands of pearls found which brought the finders from $4 or $5 up.

To illustrate the elements of chance that exists in fishing of pearls, two young hardware men of our city have been out on the river for the last two Sundays. The first trip they secured a number of small pearls, which well repaid them for their labor and the following Sunday brought up a shell in which was imbedded a pearl worth probably $200 at the market price. Other men who have spent several years on the river were out both of those days and practically returned with nothing.

NEWARK.

Newark, April 10.—Mr. O. F. Olsen of Brodhead, stopped in the village Tuesday night.

Mr. W. H. Stine of the Knudson creamery, called in Newark, Tuesday.

The correspondent called at the Western Newark creamery and made a few inquiries. The following statement was made by the buttermaker: Elgin price of butter is .30c. The highest price reached since the creamery was built. Milk now averaging 90c to $1.10 per 100 lbs. Price of butter is quite satisfactory with the farmers, but the test never gets high enough to suit the majority. One man had a test that netted him $1.02 11-2 per hundred lbs., stated that he would sooner turn the milk to the hogs than to sell his milk to a creamery and receive such a low test. The buttermaker further stated that there was no excuse for the farmers knowing so little about the test. Every farmer should have a hand tester, and test their own milk. This would stop all friction between farmers and creamery men. The farmers should test all cows separately and know which cows to keep. Some cows will pay much more than the cost of keeping, which is about $25 per year, while some cows will not pay the cost of living. Every farmer should have a tester. Every farmer should know the weight of his milk. Every farmer should know Elgin price of butter. With this combination, it is possible for any man to know what their milk should bring.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

"The Burgomaster," fresh from its triumph tour of the Eastern cities, will be presented tomorrow afternoon and evening at the Myers Grand. Without a doubt, this merry mélange is the cleverest musical travesty presented for many a day, and its reception everywhere has been little short of an ovation, as it has captured the good will and praises of the press and public entirely. This musical concert is of unusual distinction, inasmuch as the hook and lyrics are of a kind that not even many comic operas of international reputation can boast with equal merit, and the music is of that bright, catchy kind, that tired people in a city appreciate, as it has that pleasant tingle that brings a encore. In fact, there is none of that languid feeling about "The Burgomaster."

The musical event of the season will be the concert given this evening at the Myers Grand by the Beloit college musical clubs. The program of the concert is one made up of entirely new and striking numbers, each of which is given in the most pleasing manner, and winning for the club members unlimited applause. The clubs come to Janesville from a most successful tour in which they have won unlimited praise for their splendid work, and there are none who have other than the best words for them.

LARGE ENGINES OF THE ELECTRIC ROAD

Two Cross Compounds of 1300 Horse Power Each Will Supply the Power.

The power station of the interurban road and its mighty engines will long be things of interest in connection with the road, says the Beloit Free Press. The engines will be the largest in this city, where steam power is not a novelty, and few persons living here have seen their equal in size and capacity. There will be two each with a normal capacity of 850 horse power and a full capacity of 1,300 horse power.

The engines will be cross compounds of the Reynolds-Corliss pattern and will be made by the Allis-Chalmers company of Milwaukee. To each engine will be directly connected a generator of 450 kilowatts capacity.

The fly-wheels of the engines will be eighteen feet in diameter and will weigh 60,000 pounds each. The generators will be thirteen feet in diameter. Each engine will occupy floor space of 33x24 feet. The foundations for the engines have been constructed with the determination that they shall endure. They are made of cement and 875 bags of portland cement were used in each. Everything the company is under-taking is being well done.

The great steam boilers, three in number, are to be of the Babcock-Wilcox type of water tube steam generators. The chimney for the outfit stands a monument to the company and looms up in the air 170 feet. There is but one other higher smokestack in the state. A brewery in Milwaukee has a larger smokestack.

The power house and lofty stack are completed and the machinery is being put in place. But it is massive and progress in its erection is necessarily slow, and notwithstanding the optimistic reports of President Clough, it will be many a day before the road will be in operation.

The power plant is something of especial interest to mechanics and there is but one verdict in the matter and that is that "it is magnificent."

GOVERNOR BY REPORT.

Resemblance That Caused Trouble to a Detroit Man.

"I don't know how on earth such a report started," said a Detroit insurance man, "but my wife and I had scarcely got settled in a little while for our vacation last summer, when it was noised around that I was the governor of Michigan. I denied it as fast as I could, but the dental didn't get around as fast as the report. One morning, after about a week, a broad-shouldered farmer who didn't look a bit good natured, called me out to say: 'Governor, I've got a little business with you.'

"I'm no governor," I promptly answered.

"Governor," he went on, "I don't belong to your party."

"No?"

"And I don't vote your ticket."

"No?"

"And I didn't believe the people of Michigan would elect no such critter as you to office."

"And they didn't," I said.

"No, I didn't believe it, but there was some as did, and when I offered to bet a $10 cow again a $5 calf that you'd git snowed under I was tooker up. Governor, I lost that cow. I worked agin you tooth and toe-nails, but you sneaked in."

"I'm very sorry you lost the cow."

"But bein' sorry doesn't furnish me in milk and butter, governor; I've biled my time and it has come, and now I'm goin' to tick $30 worth of spotted cow right out of your hide."

"I got away from him while he was neeling off his coat," said the narrator, "but it was a close shave, and I had to send a keg of beer out to his farm before he came to the conclusion that I wasn't holding down the state of Michigan and responsible for his loss."—Detroit Free Press.

Leaf Tobacco Notes.

A majority of the buyers of the market are still riding and each day a fair number of crops are picked up at prices about the same as prevailed last week, ranging from 4 to 8 cents, the latter figure very rarely paid. In some sections of this county the tobacco has been pretty well cleaned up, while in other sections there are quite a number of crops left unsold.

Most of the tobacco now being purchased is of the medium and lower grades, there being but few of the better crops in the hands of the farmers.

In old goods the local market is extremely quiet, and other markets of the state are in a like condition. The same may be said of the large eastern markets.

The assorting rooms are running with all the help they can get, and about 600 persons are employed. More help is wanted, but cannot be obtained. Deliveries have been liberal, keeping a good stock on hand for the assorters.

Seed sowing has been much delayed, owing to the frosty weather that has prevailed the greater part of the past week. A great deal of seed will be sown next week.

A moderate amount of buying continues throughout the growing districts in the southern portion of the state, which is continually reducing the amount of unsold goods in farmers' hands. It is quite probable that a good many thousand cases are quietly being lifted each week of the medium quality goods at prices much below what they have been held for months past.

The market for cured leaf is extremely quiet, both locally and in the eastern centers, and no transactions of importance have reached us, says the Edgerton Reporter.

Quite liberal deliveries have come to the warehouses of the local packing points and a vast amount of tobacco yet remains in the bundle to be handled, which will prolong the season well into the warm weather.

The shipments out of storage reach but 4000s from this market to all points for the week past. Six hundred cases of cigar leaf were exported from New York since last report.

When the story of Chinese atrocities filled the papers and shocked the world, it was the women who drew the pity and sympathy of all. Doubtless many wife who heard her husband's words of sympathy for these women thought with a smile, of the blindness of men to the suffering under their very eyes. It is true, the suffering of women in China was severe but short. Many a wife suffers for years with a daily agony of pain, her nerves shattered, her strength almost gone, and never hears a word of sympathy.

To women such as these Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription brings the opportunity of a new life of health and happiness. It establishes regularity, dries the drains which weaken women, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Generally fair tonight and Saturday.

THE DIFFERENCE.

The Madison Journal calls attention to the fact that LaFollette clubs are springing up in different parts of the states, especially in the rural districts. It is noticeable that one does not hear of any new Whitehead clubs starting up.—Oshkosh Northwestern.

That's just the difference. There will be no Whitehead clubs, but there will be plenty of republican clubs, which means vastly more. The LaFollette campaign will be a personal campaign. The governor and his supporters realize that party harmony can never exist under his management. They understand full well that his renomination and election will in no way heal the break in the republican party. Governor LaFollette enjoys all the honor that will ever come to him as governor of the state, his nomination without opposition was made possible in the interests of harmony. His election by the unanimous vote of the party, was an earnest of sincerity and it remained for him to say whether the compact should be sealed and all differences forgotten. This he flatly refused to do, and reluctantly the lines were again drawn, and the contest renewed.

The governor is willing to compromise on a personal basis, and so LaFollette clubs are formed to encourage personal ambition. There isn't another public man in the state who would not be willing to sacrifice himself for the welfare of the party, yet no one expects this of the governor. Men who do not agree with him are ostracized, and it happens the army is so numerous, that it includes a majority of the republican party. A LaFollette club has a high sounding title, but a republican club possesses the dignity of age and experience. There will be no lack of organizations of this kind all over the state, and the result of their work will mean the nomination of John M. Whitehead for governor.

Two Kansas farmers were recently unrooted out of $200 at a laboratory in New York, by a scientific old gentleman, who taught them both how to extract gold from gold fish. He experimented on a pet fish in their presence, and from the scales produced a four dollar nugget which the farmers were permitted to sell to a jeweler close by. A partnership was formed and $200 put up to bind the bargain till the next day. The farmers are back in Kansas fishing for success in the good old fashioned way.

An undertaker at Corry, Penn., became enamored with his house maid, his wife left him and shortly after the maid disappeared. In a few days the undertaker was missing, but he soon returned with the maid, introducing her as his wife. The town was unusually healthy, and hadn't much use for an undertaker, so the citizens prepared a barrel of tar and killed a hen, and escorted the enterprising slasher out of town on a roll.

The Lieutenant-Governor of Colorado, D. C. Coats, was formerly President of the State Federation of Labor. He was invited to address the Ministers' Alliance at Denver the other day and was so abusive that he was hissed out of the hall. He told them, among other things, that they were afraid of losing their jobs if they breached the truth.

New York had a lively time in attempting to close the saloons last Sunday. A saloon became a hotel when a sandwich is forced upon a customer. 2,500 saloons became hotels in less than an hour, and did a thriving business throughout the day. The saloon men insisted on the enforcement of excise laws and many peddlers and small shop keepers were arrested. Mayor Low will have a busy administration.

District Attorney Jerome, of New York, is very much opposed to gambling, yet very fond of games. He has lately put into his house a ping pong table, and when he gets weary of back gammon, he will exercise on the modern game. Ping pong is quite reductive and the antics of the new official will be watched with interest.

Nordica, the great opera singer, has a heart to correspond with her voice. When in Cleveland recently, 300 factory girls sent her an urgent invitation to come to the factory and sing just one song for them. She was unable to comply, but invited the girls to the theatre in the evening, where they were admitted for 10c. She had an appreciative audience, and made 300 new friends.

White Plain, New York, supports a dog cemetery, in which 150 valuable canines are interred. The last victim was a black and tan belonging to E. J. Primrose, the minstrel man. The burial cost him $4.00 and he wasn't much of a dog at that.

Six freshmen, from Princeton college, recently gained notice by painting their class numerals on the Trenton Battle monument, and disgraced the rooms.

ing several nice residences with the same motto. The little pleasantry cost their fathers about $8,000 and the boys are now exercising their muscles at manual labor. It is possible for a young man to get into college with just brain enough to be a hoodlum.

A young couple, at Evansville Ind., started out with a horse and buggy the other night to get married. Their route was across a marsh that was flooded with water. The buggy was upset, but the young man released the horse, and grasping the girl with one hand, and the horse's tail with the other, the couple were towed for a mile to the house of the parson. That couple ought to be winners to say nothing about the horse.

An anxious reader wants to know if the "oleo" bill has anything to do with the advance in beef. It probably does. Old cows will be in such demand for milkers, that the butcher won't be able to buy them at any price, and there is never steer meat enough to go around.

The friends of the oleomargarine bill are willing to accept the Senate amendment, or anything else but delay. They are beginning to hear from home, and they have discovered that clause legislation is a dangerous proposition.

Col. Dan B. Starkey, one of the best advertised men in the state, just now, has commenced an action for libel against the Milwaukee Free Press. Campaign papers are not always prolific revenue getters on damage suits.

Postmaster Olson, of Oshkosh, is likely to hold his job, in spite of congressman Jenkins' opposition. Spooner, Quarles and Payne are said to be backing Olson. The combination is strong, and Olson will probably win out.

The Oshkosh Northwestern should address a few more open letters to Senator Whitehead. The last batch failed to reach him, because he was out of town.

Game warden Overbeck has stopped fishing long enough to say that congressman Minor is up against the real thing, with chances against his return.

Did some one say that Whitehead would be retired? Will the party that knows so much about it, please explain who will retire him?

A man at Bayone, N. J., owns a dog that chews tobacco. There are several men in Wisconsin who have boys addicted to the same habit.

Governor LaFollette is said to be overworked politically, and is about to seek rest. What a tired feeling will develop during the campaign.

Lieutenant-Governor Stone might be trusted to visit the State Institutions while the governor is working overtime on his hand book.

An exchange says that "Mary had a little lamb, but it was spoiled for want of a little mint sauce."

FRESH COMMENT.

It is a long jump from the city hall of Milwaukee to the white house at Washington.—Memphis Breeze.

Milwaukee Sentinel: Perhaps if the newspapers would refrain from cackling every time Poultry Biggs lays an egg he would give us a needed rest.

Here's an idea. Kill all the dogs and substitute hens. A farmer figures that one dog costs as much for keeping as sixty hens; sixty hens will play in a year 600 dozen eggs, worth say $90.—Madison Journal.

It is a cruel thing to jeopardize Rose gubernatorial hopes so soon after the Milwaukee election by the announcement that the veteran Gov. Peck is likely to shy his master into the ring.—Fond du Lac Commonwealth.

An Ashland man advertises in The News of this city, "The cemetery is an ideal spot where hundreds of our citizens and families spend a great deal of spare time to let the minds dwell on past happiness and pleasure." Think of that, in north Wisconsin city.—Eau Claire Leader.

Oshkosh must be godly, because the club women are agitating the establishment of free bath houses and The Northwestern says "cleanliness is next to godliness." The club women always take up some reform, therefore is demanded by conditions, therefore the supposition.—Adelaide King in Milwaukee Sentinel.

Evening Wisconsin: "Because a teacher is pretty," says State Superintendent Harvey, "it does not follow that she cannot teach." If he had taken the opposite stand, what a flutter of righteous indignation he would have aroused among the school teachers in Milwaukee.

A man would hardly dare to suggest it, but Adelaide King, in The Milwaukee Sentinel, says that the Neenah telephone girls who struck for fifteen minutes to get a little fresh air are probably affected by "too much fresh talk."—Oshkosh Northwestern.

Three men determined to rob a certain house. So on the night decided they gathered in front of the building. One of them entered and started up the stairs. He had his boots on, and, when near the landing his boots made a noise on the stairs.

A female voice called out from one of the rooms:

"You go right down stairs and take those boots off. I'm tired of having to clean up mud and dirt after you come up here with your boots on. You march right down and take them off."

The burglar turned around, went down the steps and outside to his companion, and said: "Boys, I couldn't rob that house; it seems to much like home."—Philadelphia Times.

Walsh-Owen Wedding

It was a perfect day, April 6, 1902, at high noon, when the Rev. Father Smith of Broadhead pronounced the words which united "forever" Miss Agnes Walsh and Durland Owen, both of Footville. The bride was attired in a suit of gray trimmed in white and was attended by her sister, Miss Black, while Ed. Walsh, brother of the bride, was best man. After the ceremony the happy couple repaired to the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. R. Walsh, where a faultless wedding breakfast was served. The bride is well and favorably known having spent her life in our midst. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Owen and is possessed of the sterling qualities which go to make life a success. After a brief wedding tour, Mr. and Mrs. Owen will reside in Beloit, where the good wishes of a host of friends go with them.

Speak Well of Baskerville

The Rev. E. J. Baskerville, who begins a series of revival meetings in the Court Street M. E. church next Sunday is highly spoken of by Fred Emerson Brooks, New York City, who says:

"Five thousand people heard the Rev. E. J. Baskerville at the Epworth State Assembly, Lincoln, Neb. Had there been five thousand more they could all have heard him. There is no stronger or more musical voice on the platform or pulpit. Not a person left during the powerful sermon. I never heard better sermons and I have heard a great many different men. Few men can handle a great multitude, but Dr. Baskerville held the assembly audiences with a power that seemed miraculous."

To Open New Machine Shop

Fremont C. Randall and Oscar Athon are about to open a first class machine shop on North River street, in the Lowell building, formerly occupied by A. H. Belding. Several machines are already in place and Mr. Athon is away to purchase a large lathe.

Both of these gentlemen are expert machinists and have had many years experience at the business. Mr. Randall is a machinist and also an inventor, having been a manufacturer of bicycles and has an automobile of his own manufacture. Mr. Athon was an employee of the Janesville Machine company and did much of their expert work in the machine shop.

MANY CASES OF SCARLET FEVER

It is Policy of Authorities to Keep These Diseases from Notice of the Public.

Engineer James Foren's home at 164 Washington street has been quarantined by the health officer on account of several of his children being sick with the scarlet fever. There are a great many cases of scarlet fever and small pox in the city that never come to public notice further than a quarantining card being posted on the door of the home where the disease is. It is the policy of the authorities to keep these diseases from public notice as much as possible for fear of creating alarm. In one or two cases about the city, the neighbors living near the quarantined houses are complaining that the quarantine rules are not being obeyed by the members of the family who are not down with the disease.

WALL EYED PIKE WEIGHED 7 POUNDS

I. F. Wortendyke and Edward Behrendt Caught the Monster While Fishing at Monterey.

I. F. Wortendyke and Edward Behrendt were at Monterey yesterday afternoon fishing and succeeded in catching a wall eyed pike that weighed in the neighborhood of seven pounds. The fishing in the river this spring is reported to be first class and a number of good catches have already been made.

The fishermen at Lake Koshkonong are having fine success trolling when the lake is not rough. It is reported that the fishing at Indian Ford was never better and a number of parties are making arrangements to go up there for a day as soon as the weather gets warm.

As is usual in the spring it is hard work to get live minnows for bait and those who have a supply on hand will get the cream of the fishing.

Degree of Honor Dance

The annual dance of the Degree of Honor, was held last evening at East Side hall. About 150 couples were present and took part in the festivities. Smith's orchestra furnished the music and from 8:30 up to 12 o'clock kept the dancers busy. The committee in charge of the floor did all in their power to add to the enjoyment of their guests and succeeded in making all feel that they had an enjoyable time. Those who had charge of the party were W. J. Hilt, John Hiller, Charles Lagerman, Phil Ohlweiler, Fred Schmitt, M. Daley and C. J. Schottke.

Accidents Caused by Wind

The high wind today was the cause of a tip over and runaway in the Second ward near the school house. A lady was driving along Caroline street in a top phaeton, which was caught by a severe gust of wind and overturned. The lady was thrown out onto the pavement and received several cuts and bruises. The horse started to run and dragged the phaeton along on its side as far as Mr. Nelthorpe's residence where it was caught. The phaeton was not much damaged beyond having the side and top scratched.

A lady riding her wheel down Wisconsin street near the new St. Mary's church was caught by a heavy gust of wind and for a few seconds there was a bad mix-up. She escaped with a few bruises and scratches.

GETS CONTRACT TO BUILD COURTHOUSE

William Rowson Gets Notice, Stating His Successful Bid for Building at Albia, Iowa.

William Rowson of the firm of James Rowson and son, city hall contractors, received a telegram from his father this morning stating that he had been awarded the contract for building the court house at Albia, Ia. The building is to cost between seventy-five and eighty thousand dollars and is to be a fire proof structure, being built almost entirely of stone and brick and iron.

Messrs. Rowson & Son are also bidding on the court house to be built at Lancaster, Wis., which will cost about $100,000. The bids for this building will be opened on April 16.

They are making rapid progress in lathing and plastering the new city hall and will complete the tower as soon as they get the interior of the basement of the building finished.

One of the large flat stones for the front entrance was broken this morning while it was being hauled from the cars to the building. The stone contains 33 cubic feet and the accident will probably necessitate another one being ordered from the quarry, half head.

ELKS WILL HAVE CLUB ROOMS SOON

Rose Coghlan May Be Secured to Give a Performance to Raise the Necessary Funds

The local lodge of Elks have a plan under way by which they hope to establish a club room for the use of members and friends of the lodge. The first step toward raising a fund for this purpose has been taken and through the aid of Manager P. L. Myers of the opera house, the famous actress, Rosa Coghlan, has been secured here for a performance on May 16th. Mr. Myers has kindly donated the use of the house for that night and members of the lodge will make every effort to pack the theater.

The expense of securing Miss Coghlan is considerable but the Elks are confident they can interest the public sufficiently to clear a goodly sum for the club room purpose. The lodge has a membership of over 100 in this city, Edgerton and other surrounding cities and no doubt delegations will attend the performance from these places.

FOND OF WASHINGTON.

SHE LOST THE PRIZE.

Sad Plight of the Girl Who Wore a Popcorn and Candy Gown to the Dress Ball.

Washington society has about finished its study of Mrs. Chauncey M. Depew, and the verdict, already pronounced, is unqualifiedly in her favor. She is what was anticipated rather than what was hoped for, and that is the equivalent of a gracious compliment.

On the other hand, Mrs. Depew has practically completed her survey of Washington, and Mrs. Depew is delighted with the result of her observations.

Right in the heart of society's domain Mrs. Depew is domiciled. Corcoran House, long famous as a rendezvous for fashionables, is her home. It is visible, through Lafayette square from the white house, and is pointed out to visitors who are taking in the sights.

There the late Calvin S. Brice and Mrs. Brice dazzled the capital with their splendid entertainments when Mr. Brice was a senator from Ohio. Forty years ago it was occupied by its owner, W. W. Corcoran, whose sympathies were with the south when the war came on and who discreetly leased it to Great Britain as a legation in order to save it from confiscation by the federal government. In the commodious garden which runs back from H street, Lord Lytton, then an attache of the legation, under the pseudonym of "Owen Meredith," wrote "Lucille."

In Paris, where she has spent nearly all of her life, the aesthetic in most things is developed to the highest degree; yet Mrs. Depew is genuinely enthusiastic over the American capital. To ascertain her impressions of Washington, writes a Kansas City Star correspondent, I called at the Corcoran house.

The first the world heard of Mrs. Depew was that she was a mere slip of a girl and that the wedding was one of the May and December affairs. Next it was told that the bride was no girl, but a woman perceptibly gray. Mrs. Depew is a woman in the prime of life, neither middle aged nor very young. Her hair is not gray, but brown. Her eyes are large and a soft brown and her teeth are white and even.

"What are my impressions of Washington?" repeated Mrs. Depew. "It will take some time to tell you, but the most prominent thought in my mind is that at last I am here. I have wanted all my life to come to America, and especially to the capital. I have always had such great expectations of Washington, and they are everyone realized, and more than realized. Washington is so different from any other place I have ever known. You know, I went abroad when only a year old with my mother, who was a southern woman, and I have spent all my life in Europe, mostly in Paris. I never forgot, however, that I was an American. All my studies were along American lines, and before me has always been the fixed purpose of coming to my native land. Washington is delightful. Every one has been so kind, so cordial."

"The sincerity of Washington society has often been questioned?" I ventured.

"Oh, no, indeed," interjected Senator Depew: "there is no nonsense here. Why, there can't be. Washington society is totally different from any other. Here everyone's rank is fixed, and you can't be other than an American, can you?"

"Not very well," I replied; "but that remark goes to show you do not believe in this question of precedence so much talked of here."

"Precedence? How can there be any precedence? Everyone's position socially, is fixed for him. Either one is a diplomat, or in the cabinet, or has some official position; and that is just what makes Washington so delightful. There is always some element of interest in the social functions here. It must be of interest or it doesn't get in."

"In New York it is so different; there is such a sameness about the social life. Society lives by itself. Society is separate from literature. Society is separate from Bohemia. Society is separate from the life of the judges, the preachers, the physicians and the politicians. But in Washington all is different. A clever, ambitious man from the west or the south or the New England states can come here, and if he has it in him can be in society and hold his own."

"Washington is something like Paris in that respect," remarked Mrs. Depew, in her soft, well-modulated voice, "and yet it is different, too. There there is no political element."

When Baby Begins to Walk.

Experiments upon 1,220 children show that 95.5-10 per cent. begin to walk under the age of 24 months; a little over half begin under 14 months; one-third begin under 12 months; 10 per cent. begin under 10 months. Three babies out of the whole number begin to walk under 8 months.

And John meekly agreed.

"LOOK OVER ME."

u winner. She showed it to several of her friends and they all agreed it was splendid effort. On the great night she and her escort went over to the ball on the street car. There was a big crowd about the entrance, but they climbed the stairs and she left her wraps in the cloakroom on the second floor.

There was still another flight of stairs to be climbed, and when they got to the entrance to the ballroom they were stopped by a big crowd of small boys who was gathered close about the door in a dense mass.

She and her escort pressed into the crowd as far as they could go, but they were caught in the jam and detained for several minutes. Finally they got through into the room and she began to look for the applause which she was sure would greet her appearance. Instead people began to laugh, says the Chicago Tribune.

"I wish," she said to her escort, "you would look me all over and tell me what is the matter."

The man did as he was bidden.

"I am sorry," he said, "but somebody has eaten most of your costume. I suppose those small boys did it while we were waiting in the hall. At any rate, most of the popcorn and candy is gone from the back of your dress."

THEIR RELATIONSHIP.

When Madam Made Up Their Minds, John Simply Said "Yes" and Smiled a Silly Smile.

There are some queer couples in the world, remarked a Boston estate agent recently. The other day a man and woman called to see me about renting a house. The woman did all the talking and turned to the man for confirmation or corroboration. He always tried our Vinol if you are experiencing any bronchial or lung trouble. It does not upset the stomach. It will do that organ good, not only by creating an appetite but by enabling it to better assimilate the food that is taken into it. It will increase the nourishing properties of this same food, so that the system will take up all the elements it needs to make rich red blood and firm flesh.

When this is done the doors of the system are closed against consumption, and any existing irritation or diseased membrane will be cured.

Mr. Thomas Morton, Stillwater, Maine, says: "My grandson has been troubled with a bad cough lately and learning that Vinol was good for all pulmonary ills, I got a bottle of it for the boy. All I can say is that it proved just the medicine he needed. He now feels much better, and his cough has disappeared."

The reason we promise to refund the cost of Vinol, to all who do not experience the benefits that we claim it will bring about, is because we know by experience that it invariably accomplishes everything we claim for it. It is very successful.

WEAK LUNGS

As Indicated By A Hacking Cough.

VINOOL WILL CURE LUNG AFFECTIONS.

When you have a cough you are continually fearing something worse.

Do not let yourselves get in this condition. Come and talk to us and let us tell you why we know Vinol is the best thing that you can take for a hacking cough with a tendency to lung trouble.

One of the greatest remedies that has ever been prescribed by physicians for consumption and all wasting diseases is cod liver oil. You know how disagreeable it is to take. We have actually seen people who would rather take their chances than to take that medicine. Now with Vinol this is all different. To be sure it owes its value to the fact that it contains in its concentrated form the valuable medicinal properties that have made cod liver oil famous for such diseases, but let us remind you that it does not contain any oil or grease that makes the old form of cod liver oil so objectionable and often so impossible to a weakened stomach.

Try our Vinol if you are experiencing any bronchial or lung trouble. It does not upset the stomach. It will do that organ good, not only by creating an appetite but by enabling it to better assimilate the food that is taken into it. It will increase the nourishing properties of this same food, so that the system will take up all the elements it needs to make rich red blood and firm flesh.

CATARRH

The treatment of Catarrh with antiseptic and astringent washes, lotions, salves, medicated tobacco and cigarettes or any external or local application, is just as senseless as would be kindling a fire on top of the pot to make it boil. True, these give temporary relief, but the cavities and passages of the head and the bronchial tubes soon fill up again with mucus.

Taking cold is the first step towards Catarrh, for it checks perspiration, and the poisonous acids and vapors which should pass off through the skin, are thrown back upon the mucous membrane or inner skin, producing inflammation and excessive flow of mucus, much of which is absorbed into the blood, and through the circulation reaches every part of the system, involving the Stomach, Kidneys and other parts of the body. When the disease assumes the dry form, the breath becomes exceedingly foul, blinding headaches are frequent, the eyes red, hearing affected and a constant ringing in the ears. No remedy that does not reach the polluted blood can cure Catarrh. S. S. S. expels from the circulation all offensive matter, and when rich, pure blood is again coursing through the body the mucous membranes become healthy and the skin active, all the disagreeable, painful symptoms disappear, and a permanent, thorough cure is effected.

S. S. S. being a strictly vegetable blood purifier does not derange the Stomach and digestion, but the appetite and general health rapidly improve under its tonic effects. Write us about your case and get the best medical advice free. Book on blood and skin diseases sent on application.

PLAN DEFEAT OF CUBAN BILL

Republican Insurgents Say That Democrats Will Vote with Them.

MAJORITY LEADERS CONFIDENT

Believed That the Differential Duty on Refined Sugar Will Not Be Removed
—Grovernor Quotes Dingley as Saying
Schedule Is Unreasonably High.

Washington, April 11.—Defeat of the Cuban reciprocity bill by aid of Democratic votes is the claim made by the opposition leaders. They say they have received assurances that the solid Democratic vote will be cast with the thirty-nine Republican insurgents to remove the differential duty on refined sugar. The sugar beet representatives believe that if an amendment removing the differential duty can be added to the duty the sugar trust will lose all interest in it and join to defeat it. Telegrams are being sent out to absent Democrats to be in Washington early next week and plans are being carefully laid for a coup which the Republican insurgents believe will be successful.

The Republican leaders say they do not believe the opposition combination can be made to work, but if it does the bill will still be passed and the differential will be restored by the senate, thus bringing on a contest between the two houses.

Debate on the bill was enlivened by Representative Grosvenor of Ohio. He quoted Mr. Dingley as declaring the sugar schedule in the bill that bears his name to be "unreasonably high." The most important feature of his speech was the warning he served that the tariff must be revised.

Representative Prince, who, with his colleague, Mr. Smith, was the only Republican member of the delegation to vote against the bill, explained his position in a speech. He denied that the bill was a party measure and referred to the vote to show that it received the support of 114 Republicans and sixty-three Democrats, while it was opposed by thirty-nine Republicans and forty-one Democrats.

He announced that he was willing to measure his Republicanism before his constituents at home as well as with his colleagues on the floor of the house, and said he was willing to yield to the judgment of the Republican members from Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota and California, where the proposed legislation would injure the beet sugar industry. He preferred to stand with them rather than support a measure that would receive a majority of the Democratic votes. He was warmly applauded by the Republicans who are opposing the bill and after his speech he was cordially congratulated by them.

Work of the Day in Congress.
Washington, April 11.—An effort was made to obtain an agreement for a vote on the Chinese exclusion bill in the senate, but it was unsuccessful. The indications are that the vote will be taken next Tuesday. The measure was under discussion during the entire session, except for about an hour, in which time the postoffice appropriation bill was considered and passed.

Three speeches were made against the Chinese bill in its present form, Mr. Dillingham concluding his remarks and Mr. Hoar and Mr. Stewart stating their objections to the bill. Mr. Stewart said he would vote for the measure if it was the best that could be obtained, as he favored the exclusion of Chinese laborers, but he was opposed to many of the provisions. Mr. Hoar, with considerable feeling, announced his vigorous opposition to the bill, declaring he would never vote for it.

An amendment was agreed to eliminating section 56 of the bill and substituting a provision that nothing in the act should be construed to prevent any foreign exhibitor from any country from bringing to the United States such assistants as might be necessary to enable him to make an exhibition at any fair or exposition authorized by the government.

Mr. Depew spoke briefly against the adoption of the resolution providing for the election of senators by popular vote. In effect he served notice on those states which had limited their suffrage that if the resolution was enacted a demand would be made on them to accord all their citizens the right to vote or suffer the loss of representatives in congress. He offered this amendment to the resolution to provide for the election of senators by popular vote.

The qualification of citizens, entitled to vote for United States senators and representatives in congress shall be uniform in all the states and congress shall have the power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation and to provide for the registration of citizens entitled to vote, the conduct of such elections and the certificate of the result." The usual executive session preceded adjournment.

Aside from the debate on the Cuban reciprocity bill little was done in the house. Resolutions were passed calling upon the secretary of state for information regarding the alleged removal by Canadian officials of landmarks along the Alaskan border and calling upon him for the report of the governor of Louisiana and all other correspondence relating to the establishment of a British base of supplies near Louisiana and the shipment of horses and mules for the use of the British army in south Africa.

James G. Blaine's Sister Weds.
Washington, April 11.—Miss Mary Gillespie Blaine, daughter of Mrs. Robert Blaine of this city, and a niece of the late James G. Blaine, was married to Charles Eppis Lipscomb of Pittsburgh, Pa., in St. Peter's Roman Catholic church, in the presence of more than 200 guests. Robert C. Blaine was best man. The bride wore a handsome gown of cream satin and lace. Her veil was held back by a cluster of orange blossoms. Her sisters, the Misses Maude and Nina Blaine, were her attendants. Rev. Father V. F. Schmitt, assisted by Rev. Father P. C. Gavin, officiated. Mr. Lipscomb is a member of a distinguished Virginia family. After a short wedding tour Mr. Lipscomb will take his bride to Pittsburgh, where he is now in business.

Hay to Handle Boer Fund.
Washington, April 11.—A certified check for $5,000 for the relief of Boer women and children in concentration camps in South Africa was sent from the white house to the state department, and will be applied under the direction of Secretary Hay. The check represents funds raised in Illinois, which it was originally proposed to disburse through Dr. Thomas. It is understood at the state department, after inquiry of Governor Yates and Boer Commissioner Van Vlietstigen in Chicago, that the plan of sending Dr. and Mrs. Thomas to South Africa has been abandoned.

Washington, April 11.—General Bacheller of New York, Judge of the International Court of the First Instance of Egypt, will be the successor of Anthony M. Kelley of Virginia, who has resigned the office of Judge of the Court of Appeals of the International tribunal of Egypt. Judge Kelley has given no reason for his resignation. It is presumed that his health demands return to his native country. General Bacheller, who will succeed him, was formerly assistant secretary of the treasury and is a jurist of prominence.

Barred from the Mails.
Washington, April 11.—A fraud order has been issued denying the use of the mails to the People's Supply House, 630 Larabee street, Chicago. It is explained at the postoffice department that the concern has been sending circulars through the mails offering employment on a commission basis. Persons replying were required to send 50 cents and in return received a fountain pen, with instructions to write letters to their friends and get a commission for all pens sold.

New Ruling on Pensions.
Washington, April 11.—The interior department holds that a soldier can recover the $30 per month pension under the act of March 3, 1883, from date of pension claim for the period of proven second-grade disability even though such period be temporary.

Representative Bromwell of the second Ohio district has announced that he would not be a candidate for re-election. Mr. Bromwell is serving his fifth term in the house.

Senator Mason established a record in the senate, when, as chairman of the postoffice and post roads committee, he secured the passage of the annual appropriation bill in just fifty-six minutes.

The senate confirmed the nominations of Brigadier General Robert P. Hughes to be major general and of Colonels Isaac D. Dernsey, Andrew S. Burt and Michael V. Sheridan to be brigadier generals.

Representative Mann succeeded in securing the passage of a bill appropriating $7,500 for a residence for the lighthouse keeper at South Chicago. The senate cut the amount to $3,500, but Mr. Mann, who represented the house on the conference committee, persuaded the senate conference to restore the amount.

Freight Wreck Costs Two Lives.
Wayland, Mass., April 11.—A freight train on the Boston and Maine railroad ran into an open switch here, jumped the track, and, striking the freight house, pushed it from its position. The engineer, Fred Judkins, and Brakeman William Sutherland, both of Somerville, were killed, and Fireman Charles McNear of Boston injured.

Rich Gold Discoveries in Wyoming.
New York, April 11.—Gold in surpassing richness has been discovered on Col. William F. Cody's lands in Wyoming. In the Big Horn Valley, and Buffalo Bill probably will be a millionaire before the year closes. A mine adjoining the property has just been sold for $2,500,000.

Diplomatic Relations Severed.
Berne, Switzerland, April 11.—Diplomatic relations between Switzerland and Italy have been ruptured. This action arises from the refusal of Switzerland to give satisfaction regarding an article published in Geneva insulting the memory of the murdered King Humbert.

aside from the debate on the Cuban reciprocity bill little was done in the house. Resolutions were passed calling upon the secretary of state for information regarding the alleged removal by Canadian officials of landmarks along the Alaskan border and calling upon him for the report of the governor of Louisiana and all other correspondence relating to the establish-

Manila, April 11.—Excitement prevails here on account of the arrest of the editor of Freedom, a local publication, who is charged with sedition in publishing recently an article from an American periodical with whom he agreed. He also added remarks of his own, censuring the Philippine commission's rule. The editors of the Volcano also have been arrested on a suit of the government for demanding the removal of a judge who recently tried Senor Valdez and who is now trying the editor of Freedom under the sedition law.

Boy Trials to Week Train.

Niles, Mich., April 11.—Stanley Hollinger, 15 years old, attempted to wreck a big four train by placing a heavy timber in an upright position between the ties on a trestle which crosses Dowagiac creek. A section of the trestle was discovered a few minutes before a passenger train was to cross the trestle. Young Hollinger confessed to the police that he had placed the obstruction on the trestle to derail the train.

Beaumont, Tex., April 11.—Perry A. Hull of Chicago, who is ill with pneumonia in this city, had an exceedingly bad day. Dr. Cobb called a consultation of physicians. The physicians agree that there is no immediate danger.

SING FOR THE PRESIDENT

South Carolina Pleasantries Render Patriotic Airs for Chief Executive. Summerville, S. C., April 11.—The visit of President Roosevelt and party to the south has terminated.

The president held an informal reception in the hotel parlors and shortly afterward, accompanied by most of his party, was taken for a drive to Dorchester, the site of the old Spanish fort, under the escort of Captain F. W. Wagener and J. C. Hemphill.

The tea farm of Dr. Shepherd was next visited, and as the president alighted from his carriage a number of diminutive negro pickers lined up in front of Dr. Shepherd's house and sang "The Star Spangled Banner," "America" and other patriotic airs. The president thanked them.

The party was then driven direct to the Southern station, where the special train was in waiting. A company of marines which had acted as the president's guard while at Charleston and here, under Captain Henry Leonard, was lined up on the depot platform.

The president thanked them for their services and expressed his regret that they had not participated in the Prince Henry ceremonies, because, he said, he was sure they would have made a fine appearance. The train pulled out for Washington amid the cheers of an immense crowd at the station.
